name and surname

Tonći Batinić

title of the lecture

Cardiac MRI: when and how?

short CV

I was born in 1963 in Split, Croatia.

I graduated with honors at Medical University Split in 1990. Since then I have been working as a radiologist at University Hospital Split and my subspeciality is interventional radiology.

Main field of my activity is the cardiovascular system and I achieved my PhD in 2013 after studying cardiac MR in elite breathhold divers.

I am an author of numerous papers in the field of cardiovascular system and interventional radiology.

To keep up with the latest technological advancements and practices in the field of interventional radiology I attend several interventional congresses on a yearly basis not only as listener but as a lecturer as well.
